Unsatisfactory	6

Junior, and not the bright ones.

b. Since the JOT program will be occupying the auditorium through January 1959, we have notified the Registrar that both the November and January IO courses will be held in Room 2241 R&S and will have to be limited to 30 students, give or take a few. All-day sessions

c. make the space pretty confusing [] has developed the tentative course schedule for IO #26, beginning 17 November, and is arranging for speakers. The course will be one day short because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

d. [] of the A&E Staff, completed the revision of the IO final examination to include recent organizational changes.

3. Intelligence Products Exhibit

a. Eighty-four visitors from Army, Navy, State, and Air Force attended the Intelligence Products Exhibit on 29 October. The exhibit was delayed about 20 minutes because a work crew assigned to set up the exhibit did not show up at all. A makeshift crew was belatedly assembled to do the job.

b. We are trying to establish suitable dates for both the Intelligence Products Exhibit and the Support Exhibit in January, which will not interfere with the JOT program. Both NSA and the Strategic Intelligence School are keenly interested in sending delegations to the Products exhibit as soon as possible. [] can vacate the Aud. 5X
